Summary

The pandemic created near-term pressure on Forrester, like most businesses, that impacted revenue in 2020 and the first half of 2021.

A strong finish to 2020, beating revenue and EPS guidance.

Q1 showed continued momentum in the business, resulting in beating revenue and EPS and a raise in full year guidance.

CV and client metrics trending upwards from their lows in Q3 20.

Achieved record quarterly cash flow in Q1 of over $40 million.

Our balance sheet is strong with $125.6 million in cash at the end of Q1 and a $75 million revolving line of credit available.

Metric Definitions

Contract Value (CV) represents the value attributable to all of our recurring research-related contracts. It is calculated as the annualized value of all contracts in effect at a specific point in time, without regard to how much revenue has already been recognized. Contract value primarily consists of subscription-based contracts for which revenue is recognized on a ratable basis, except for the entitlements embedded in our subscription products, such as event tickets and advisory sessions, for which the revenue is recognized when the item is utilized. Contract value also includes our reprint products, as these products are used throughout the year by our clients and are typically renewed.

Wallet Retention represents a measure of the CV that we have retained with clients over a twelve-month period. Wallet retention is calculated on a percentage basis by dividing the annualized contract value of our current clients, who were also clients a year ago, by the total annualized contract value from a year ago.
Metric Definitions

Client Retention represents the percentage of client companies (defined as all clients that buy a CV product) at the prior year measurement date that have active contracts at the current year measurement date.

Client Count is calculated at the enterprise level as all clients that have an active CV contract.

Free Cash Flow is calculated as cash flow generated from operating activities less cash paid for property and equipment.
